Thomas Wheddon

When and how to instruct experts (pt25) and monitoring parents post-final orders (s11/FAOs)

Instructing experts under Part 25 of the Family Procedure Rules is a critical process in family court proceedings. Tom will look at the key points to consider. Further, Tom will assess the requirements for monitoring post-final orders.

Sara Chalk

Allegations of Alienating behaviours in children act proceedings

The Family Justice Council's guidance provides a framework for dealing with allegations of alienating behaviours. Sara will take an in depth look at what they are and provide guidance on how to deal with them in Children Act proceedings.

Asher Shane

Shared Care: The Law and in Practice

Asher will provide you with a clear understanding of when a live with or 'shared care' order may be appropriate in private law proceedings.

Elica Davis

Fact-Finding Hearings, when are they necessary and proportionate and how to prepare for them

Fact-finding hearings in private law children proceedings are necessary when there are allegations of domestic abuse or other serious concerns that significantly influence the outcome of the proceedings, Elica will take an in-depth look at when are they necessary and proportionate and how to prepare for them.
